Foreword From Monica Carpenter

On behalf of Catherine Carrick and the management and staff of Carrick Institute of Education it is my great pleasure to welcome you all to the Carrick Sydney Campus. As International students you come to the Carrick community with different cultural, language and social backgrounds. One of our main aims is to assist you in coping with the challenges of living and studying in an unfamiliar culture and to help you assimilate into Carrick and the greater

Australian Society. Our courses are designed to provide you with employability skills and make you "job ready" and to achieve this aim, it is paramount that you communicate in English at all times. During your study and stay here you will enrich yourselves by gaining more knowledge, new skills, upgrading your skills, sharing ideas and experiences with your friends and family. Student life everywhere has it up and downs, we are sure that with the help and support of Carrick teachers and staff you will happily face new challenges. Make the best of this unique opportunity and use your new living and learning environment as a stepping stone for your future success. I hope that you will feel welcome in Sydney, it is great to have you here. I look forward to meeting you at various points on your fascinating journey in the next few years.

Good luck and every success in your studies! - Campus Director

Friendship Day 2009

Carrick Sydney students and staff joined together for a day of celebration on Monday at the Cleveland Street Campus.

Staff and students were celebrating the National Day of Friendship between Australia and India and the official National Days of Pakistan, Indonesia and Korea which all fall in August.

Nearly 500 students and staff joined the celebrations in Sydney and blue skies and sunshine only increased the buzz of energy that filled the student breakout room. Many of the students wore national dress, and danced to traditional bhangra music, even teachers joined in wearing bindis. Students provided entertainment for everyone by telling jokes and with traditional singing and dancing from their home countries.

Two Carrick Sydney students from Malaysia, were beautifully dressed in Indian Saris and were awarded the 'friendship' prize for what was a perfect example of multiculturalism.

The atmosphere was jovial and the event was a great way to take a break from study and celebrate friendship at Carrick.

The event was topped off by freshly baked Samosas (Indian curry puffs) baked especially for friendship day.

Our Prizes winners, looking beautiful in their Saris.

Graduation Ceremony

The joyous occasion of Graduation was held on 3 July at the Union Hall of the University of Technology, Sydney. Nearly three hundred students attended with their family and friends. The function was held in the morning from 8.30am. It started with a sumptuous breakfast of scones, muffins and pastries with tea and coffee. This gave the opportunity to all present to mingle with each other. Graduands enthusiastically posed for a group photo. The chatter and joy filled the whole hall, there were smiles on everyone's face and a pride of mission accomplished. The conferring of certificates started with a speech by the Campus Director Monica Carpenter who congratulated the graduands and their teachers as well as their families for this successful achievement. The graduation speaker William Komoroski, Director of Tomatillo Grill and Catering company praised the Carrick students for their quality education and professionalism and confirmed that the education that the students have received at Carrick has prepared them well to face the challenges that the Industry demands. He has employed several Carrick students and is very happy with their work. Awards were presented to seven top academic achievers in their class.

Best Student Performance - Tamanna Rahman

I am Tamanna Rahman, from Bangladesh. I started working as a Pastry Cook in Bourke Street Bakery in March 2007.

Once I started working with pastry, I developed an interest in studying pastry. So, I enrolled in an Advance Diploma of Hospitality Management (Patisserie) course at Carrick Institute of Education.

During this two-year course, I gained a variety of skills, techniques & knowledge that I can utilize in my workplace & personal life as well.

Recently, I finished my study and achieved the recognition of "Best Student Performance Award" based on my study outcomes. This award inspires me to continue with my long-term ambitions. I would like to thank all of my teachers for passing their knowledge on to me in a friendly way & encouraging me to study harder to achieve higher grades. I hope that Carrick Institute of Education will exist for a long time and spread its knowledge to many more students. Finally, I wish all the best to the current students of Carrick Institute of Education.

Congratulations and well done ,
Carrick wishes you all the success
for the future

Cockatoo Island

'On August 7, teachers and students at Carrick English Language had a campus picnic at Cockatoo Island. This unique place was once a prison, later a dockyard and is now host to music, art and comedy festivals and camping ground with breathtaking views of the island and started an impromptu soccer match. It was a beautiful way to spend a day on one of Australia's great treasures - Sydney Harbour.'

Sydney Harbour. The short ferry trip had excellent photo opportunities, as we passed under the Harbour Bridge. At Cockatoo Island, students prepared a barbeque lunch, relaxed, explored

Student Representative Council—SRC

What is the SRC?

The SRC is a council that consists of students, teachers and administrative staff at Carrick. Representatives will meet throughout the semester to discuss and decide on issues that are affecting the Carrick family. Students are encouraged to gather ideas and suggestions from other students, about services or events that they would like to see at Carrick. Representatives then implement these ideas with the assistance of staff. SRC representatives will represent the diversity of courses and cultures at Carrick and members will be selected from across the courses offered at Carrick. Students are encouraged to apply for an SRC position these applications will then be considered and a representative will be chosen by students in that particular course.

Why you should join the SRC?

Becoming an SRC representative allows you to actively participate and influence life at Carrick. Becoming an SRC representative is viewed positively by future employers and develops your ability to communicate with others in a fun environment. As an SRC representative you receive training from Carrick staff, and learn how to effectively manage meetings. You will be able to demonstrate to employers your responsibility and leadership skills, as well as having a positive influence on your learning environment.

Mentoring

What is mentoring?

Mentoring is where a new or inexperienced student (mentee) is placed with a more experienced student (mentor), so that they can be guided and directed by the more experienced student (mentor). The mentor and mentee, meet informally, once a week to discuss any problems that the mentee is having finding classrooms, help or settling in. Mentors receive training and are assisted by staff.

Why Mentor?

Any extra curricula activities are seen favourably by employers, and show that the student is not only dedicated to their studies, but also interested in assisting others and able to work well in a team environment. These skills are important, as employers are looking for staff that have an edge over other potential employees. Further to this mentoring programs assist the mentor in developing their leadership skills and their conversational skills, in an informal environment

Benefits for the Mentee

- Demonstrate to potential Employers, your ability to work in a team
- Learn more effectively and improve your English
- Demonstrate your initiative and ability to seek help when needed to a potential Employer
- Understand the atmosphere at Carrick
- Understand what is expected of students
- Develop a greater appreciation for their chosen vocation
- Ease the transition into life at Carrick
- Be more motivated in their study
- Gain a friend and swap tips about where to go in Sydney

Benefits for the Mentor

- Ability to demonstrate Leadership Skills to an Employer
- Ability to demonstrate ability to work in a team
- Develop conversational skills
- Receive Mentoring Training from Carrick Staff
- Swap tips about where to go in Sydney
- learn and develop by guiding someone else
- understand and appreciate new workers and students
- Allow others to gain from your experiences
- Increase personal motivation
- Gain a friend

Meet Our Staff - Miho and Nicole (Student Services)

Can you please tell me who you found yourself at Carrick?

I found that Carrick is great college! I knew a little bit about this college before I started working here as I used to work at International Student/Migrants Support Agencies in city. However, I have never visited campuses before. Once I met students and staff at Carrick, I felt very nice atmosphere; very warm and friendly. I never get bored as everyday, even moment is so different here. I have lots of challenge but have been enjoying working here. Also, I am trying to remember everyone's name and face as much as I can! Please don't hesitate to say hi to me

What do you think is the most important trait (skill) of an SLO?

I think SLO are expected to possess four major skills; communication, flexibilities, time management and BIG SMILE.

SLO's roll is to become a bridge between students and staff to establish better relationship and provide better environment.

I like people very much, does not matter ethnicities, nationalities, genders or ages. I always want to help people as I believe that I am living with so many people's help. In return, I want to be a little helper to make people happier. Communication is necessary for understanding each other and situation.

To response for requests, SLO need to approach by different ways. It may not on the manuals but we have to work it out while there are rules.

SLOs must make decisions with their responsibilities. That's why I believe SLO should have flexibilities.

Also, time management is important to cope with high volume of work. I am still trying to improve my skills but I have been enjoying my work so much!!

What would you suggest a student can do for fun? Remember, they may be on a limited budget...

I would suggest them to go to local markets on weekends in Paddington, Glebe, Manly, Kirribilli, Kings Cross, the Rocks...and many of free events are held in Sydney, such as at Darling Harbour, Hyde Park, the Olympic Park etc, they can be checked on free papers, newspapers and website. Personally, I like enjoying having BBQ & beer with my friends at the beach, the park or someone's place. Also, when I was a student, we had some parties during break between and during semesters and made/brought our ethnic food. It was always fun, and still have sometimes!

What is your favourite music?

I love music so I am listening to many types of them; pops, rock, classic, R&B, Trance, Top 40, 80s, 90s...But I have been into Middle Eastern so much especially last 18months as I have been learning Belly Dance.

What movies or TV shows do you recommend?

If students would like to see Australian ones, I would suggest them to try;

TV shows; "Kath & Kim" (my favourite comedy!) "60 minutes" "Better Home and Garden" and "Ready Steady Cook"

Movie; "Crocodile Dandy" "AUSTRALIA" "The Rabbit Fence" and "The Adventures of Priscilla, Queen of the Desert"

As an ex student yourself, can you share any tips for finding the balance between succeeding in class and enjoying your life?

Setting routine would be good I think. My course was also busy with lots of lectures, tutorials and practicum including court observations, mock conference interpreting practice, seminars, and high volume of translation assignments. But I also needed my time to refresh my mind and relax my body. Sometimes it is difficult but once you get used to it, I think it is the best way to keep balance between your study and life. I am applying that still between my work and my life!

Name: Miho Suzuki

Title: Student Liaison Officer
(The Reception Duties at Staff Room / Front Desk for students' enquires)

Describe myself: open-minded & passionate

As an ex student yourself, can you share any tips for finding the balance between succeeding in class and enjoying your life?

The best way to find a balance is to be organised at the start. Make sure you keep up to date with your work, right at the start. Also make sure you know when your assessments are coming up. But more importantly find a balance between work, study and socialising. You need to see friends and play sport, in order to stay fit and well for work and study.

What do you think is the most important trait (skill) of a student events and communications officer is?

An events and communications officer, must be organised and communicate with students and staff. They must be able to talk to students and find out what students need and want and organise this. It is important to communicate between students and between students and teachers.

What would you suggest a student can do for fun? Remember, they may be on a limited budget...

It is fun to visit local markets around Sydney, or meet u with friends and go to a park or the beaches and have lunch or kick a ball around.

What is your favourite music?

I enjoy most types of music, especially when I can enjoy it with friend

Words of Wisdom

“Dear friends,

Welcome to Carrick! You have made the right choice of choosing to study at Carrick and in Sydney. You have come far away from your families who shared your joys and sorrows and your responsibilities. You will still be supported by them from far and you have the Carrick staff and teachers to help you here. You have now joined the world citizens as Australia is a multicultural society where you will make friends for all over the world, share cultures and ideas and learn new things. You are now responsible to succeed in your mission and make your society a better place.

Responsibility is setting a goal and achieving it. You achieve it by being proud of what you are doing or what you want to do. Responsibility is professionalism. You achieve it by organising yourself and your thoughts and actions in such a way that you create harmony around you. This can be easily achieved by seeing things from other people’s points of view. Responsibility is having Passion for what you are doing or have chosen to accomplish. There will be ups and downs in this path but we are confident that with a positive approach to deal with everything you undertake to do you will surely succeed. And we are with you.

Good luck!

Sport is an integral part of life in Sydney, with people joining sports teams to increase their fitness, improve their health and meet people in a relaxed social atmosphere. Recently at Carrick students enjoyed a friendly ping pong completion, with finalists WINNING .....After this recent success we are looking to develop some sports teams at Carrick, for lunchtime competitions. Depending upon our numbers we will either organise inter class competitions or join a local competition between companies. We encourage students to join; as such activities can be included on your résumé and demonstrate your ability to work in a team and your commitment to the team. But more importantly it allows students to interact , with each other , build their friendship networks and improve their health.

Sports Interview— Benefits of joining a team

Nicholas Kim , Our Vocational Program Officer , enjoys sport and recently completed a successful season of soccer . He explained to me the benefits and joys of playing a team sport:

I played for Enfield Rovers (Canterbury District) and we finished the season as champions, top of the division with 16 wins and 1 loss. The team I played for was group of mates I knew that just wanted to play competitive soccer that enjoyed the game and to work on fitness. Throughout the season (6 months) there were ups and downs which is normal when you play competitive sports but in the end as a unit we finished off the season as champions which was the most rewarding part.

Coming from a sporting background I enjoy and watch a variety of sports that includes, soccer, rugby league, cricket, tennis, basketball plus more. The reason for the interest in those games is due to the competitiveness and fitness level needed which I strive to gain as a better person. There is also that reason as I like working as a unit which has its ups as you make new friends and team work which I learn new skills from others.

Dussehra

Vijayadashami (Bengali: বিজয়াদশমী, Kannada: ವಿಜಯದಶಮಿ, Malayalam: വിജയദശമി, Marathi: विजयादशमी, Nepali: विजया दशमी, Tamil: விஜயதசமி, Telugu: విజయదశమి) also known as Dasara (also written Dussehra) (Bengali: দশরা, Kannada: ದಸರ, Malayalam: ദശര, Marathi: दसरा, Telugu: దసరా) and Dashain (in Nepali), is a festival celebrated in varying forms across Nepal and India. It is celebrated on the tenth day of the bright fortnight (Shukla Paksha) of the Hindu autumn month of Ashvin or Ashwayuja, and is the grand culmination of the 10-day annual Navaratri (Sanskrit: नवरात्रि, 'nine nights') festival. It is the largest festival of Nepal, and celebrated by Hindu and non-Hindu Nepalis alike. The underlying tradition and mode of celebration vary vastly by region. However, all festivities celebrate the victory of the forces of good over evil. It is considered an auspicious day to begin new ventures in life.

Chinese Moon Festival

A four-day celebration dating back a thousand years, the Festival coincides with the moon at its biggest and brightest.

How high the moon?

A four-day celebration dating back a thousand years, the Festival coincides with the moon at its biggest and brightest. Promoting togetherness, it's based on a simple and beautiful tradition of encouraging groups of loved ones to get together and feast on wine and mooncakes

Leading the festivities will be the Chinese Gardens, transformed into a haven of Asian celebration with traditional lion and dragon dancing - while hand-held and floating lanterns will create an enchanting ambience around the intimate surroundings of the Garden and set the mood for a spectacular sound and light show. State of the art lighting, projected images, sound scapes and firework effects will be choreographed to traditional Chinese orchestral music to tell the legendary story of the 'Lady on the Moon', the goddess who lives on the moon. When the moon is full you can see her dancing.

Melbourne

The inaugural International Hairstylists Society (IHS) ‘Battle of the Colleges’ hairdressing competition was held for hairdressing students at Crown Casino on Monday night. Competing schools showcased a range of hair creations on stage in front of a panel of judges and over 500 guests.

The IHS Battle of the Colleges was organised by the International Hairstylists Society, who developed the event as a way to introduce hairdressing students to the competitive, creative environment of a hairdressing show. Carrick’s team of six students held their own in the competition. Inspired by fashion, film and imagination, they themed their vampy look around the story of Dracula. The team, made up of students from Nepal, New Caledonia, India and Mauritius put their practical skills to the test to develop a five minute presentation. Judging was based on the theme, creativity of the hairstyles and the execution of the presentation in terms of make-up, costumes and choreography, just as professional hairdressers would be judged. The Battle of the Colleges highlighted the calibre of international students studying hairdressing in Australia. Carrick’s students were chosen as the top in their class and are all working towards the goal of one day owning their own salons.
